

The River

My class went to Lock 11 on Monday the 8th

I heard lots of birds twittering, chirping and whistling.

I heard the water crashing against the bridge.

I heard kookaburras laughing at things they saw.

I felt relaxed while the wind blew past me. I felt really cold and shivery.

I saw pelicans and ducks in the shimmering river.

I saw ducks popping up and down in the river.

I saw ducks wading past me.

It feels just like a beautiful dream
